

Welcome to our Next Phase of Distance Learning, Beaumont!

I am so proud of all our Beaumont faculty members for their efforts in creating and posting lessons and activities on Schoology and our support staff for assisting student learning in so many creative and meaningful ways. Thank you to our Beaumont families for their flexibility, support, patience and skills at home as we navigate distance learning together.

Schoology at the elementary school level is new for all of us, and I am certain it will provide a useful platform to post lessons, instructional videos and real-time learning activities. The teachers continue to increase their knowledge of the instructional and communication components of Schoology.

As you participate in these new lessons and learning activities, here are few reminders:

- 1) If you are feeling good about your work, keep going. If you are excited about something you created or work you did, please share it with your teachers and with me.
- 2) If you begin to feel stressed or you feel like the work is too much, take a break and come back another time. No one wants assignments to overwhelm or cause stress for you.
- 3) Reach out to your teachers via email with questions or concerns.
- 4) Most importantly, be well. Stay home and do the very best you can each day. Sometimes our best on one day isn't the same as our best on a different day. Remember to reach out to your teachers, Mrs. Root or me if you have any questions or concerns.

Again, thank you to our Beaumont families and students for their very positive response to distance learning. You have all been incredible teachers and learners!

I hope you enjoy the new videos and lessons, continue your strong path of learning, and find ways to express your creativity and joy in the instructional activities. I can't wait until we are back together at our favorite school again!

Please stay healthy and keep showing your Beaumont Bear Pride!

Warmest Regards,

Stephanie Demming, Principal
